

SSP Professional Services

Solutions to make your business more competitive.

SSP has the knowledge, talent and technology to help you overcome your business and IT challenges.

Your challenges.

Whether you're trying to keep up with market changes, follow industry best practice, derive greater efficiencies in your business, or just simply stay ahead of your competitors, the financial advice market is full of challenges. IT shouldn't be one of them.

It's vital, therefore, that you work with a partner that understands how to help you overcome your business and IT challenges together. For this reason, SSP has the knowledge, talent and technology to help you succeed.

Your solution: SSP Professional Services.

SSP Professional Services encompasses our entire support offering. Backing up our market-leading products, our people are committed to making your business more competitive and successful. That's why we act as your problem-solving partner and complete IT domain expert.

Experience: We've developed world-class solutions that are used by organisations in more than 50 countries.

Expertise: We've gathered together some of the leading expertise and talent in the industry.

Unique: We have over 750 people focused on insurance and financial advice solutions.

Full service: We provide advice and services that go way beyond our IT capability. We can look at all of your end-to-end processes and help you automate as much as possible. We can even look at compliance issues, process design, system health checks, data capture and analysis, and how you connect to third-party service providers.

Flexibility: Whether it's a one-day refresher training course or a bespoke, multi-faceted, 1,000-plus-day project, we've the necessary skills to deliver.

Simple is better than complex.

We provide advice and services that go way beyond our IT capability.
