Keychoice partners with All Broker Services for new Excess Protection offering

Keychoice, the insurance distribution business owned by SSP, has partnered with All Broker Services to provide its broking community with access to an integrated Excess Protection add-on policy through SSP's back-office systems.

The All Broker Services Excess Protection product provides policyholders peace of mind knowing that after they have been involved in a claim they will not be left out of pocket after paying their excess. The product has an aggregate cover limit, so policyholders can claim as many times as they like up to their chosen cover limit and can also be used in a non-fault claim, provided the third party has failed to reimburse the policyholders excess.

Ron Atkinson, Distribution Director at SSP said: "I am delighted to be working with All Broker Services to provide our members with access to an add-on product that will help their customers mitigate any exposure to a potentially significant financial impact, at a time when they may least be able to afford it.

"We've seen a lot of demand for fully integrated add-on products within the Keychoice community so this is another important step in our commitment to enable our broker members to trade efficiently and provide the best possible service to their customers".

Wayne Dunthorne, Sales Director at All Broker Services said "I am thrilled that All Broker Services has been chosen by SSP as the Excess Protection partner for its Keychoice distribution group and we are looking forward to working more closely with the Keychoice team. This will hopefully be the start of a great partnership with Keychoice to the benefit of its members, providing the first of many sustainable products for the end customer."
