Adrian Brown joins SSP Limited as Non-Executive Director

SSP Limited has today announced that Adrian Brown will be joining the company as Non-Executive Director. Adrian has more than 30 years' experience in senior roles in leading underwriting and distribution businesses including as Group COO of Ardonagh Group, UK CEO of RSA and Managing Director at MoreThan.

Jonathan Halford, SSP Chairman, said "We're delighted to have Adrian join us. His exceptional depth and breadth of experience of the General Insurance industry will provide powerful insight into the opportunities and challenges in the industry, contributing to the ongoing development of SSP's strategy and plans for the future."

Adrian Brown commented "I'm delighted to be joining the SSP team at such an important and exciting time in the development of the business. SSP has played an important role at the core of the UK insurance market for many years, as well as providing insurance and broking administration systems in APAC, Africa and North America. The new management team led by CEO Steve Lathrope is delivering an exciting programme of investment in software and service. I'm looking forward to working with Jonathan, Steve, the SSP Board and management team to make sure that SSP is positioning itself to provide the innovative new digital capabilities that the industry needs."

Steve Lathrope, CEO commented "Having Adrian join the team is great news for our business and for our customers. SSP's transformation is well advanced, with the continued adoption of our Digital Insurance Platform, migration to the AWS Cloud and introduction of our powerful new SSP Broking service. Adrian's experience as a leader in underwriting and broking business, working with a wide range of technology partners including SSP, will provide us with an invaluable 'voice of the customer' as we move forward. His knowledge and expertise will play a crucial part in making sure that we have a clear view of what our customers need from us, enabling us to focus our investment on fulfilling their requirements and expectations of SSP as a business partner."
